"EvilMrSod: a musical pearl with multi-faceted Cash-Flow – a Songwriter conquers Europe"
(By bluejax • Jan 10th, 2008)

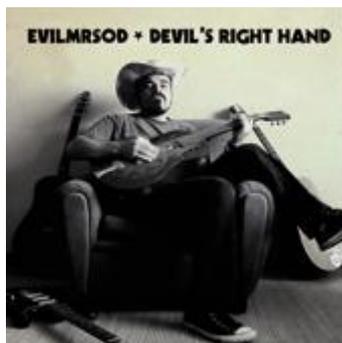

As the enthusiastic author pointed out, it is possible to see such pearl in Berlin – EvilMrSod! Pablo Ramón Rodríguez Rivero, born in Tenerife, stranded in Berlin a few years ago and never left, is matured to an impressive singer and songwriter after his first Long Player.

"I Sold My Soul To Rock'n'Roll", is one of the songs of EvilMrSod's new album "Devil's Right Hand", which will be published in October, and it seems to be true. As „EvilMrSod" he combines very different music styles, it is not possible to label him in one direction. EvilMrSod is different, his style unmistakable. Folk-Rock, Country, Blues... each have their own place with EvilMrSod.

He celebrates another facet in the Singer/Songwriter World – the dark side, the one with inconvenient stories, but the naked truth. His almost 17-year stage experience has formed his diversity.

EvilMrSod has developed his own diversity and his own characteristic style which captures and entertains his fans over and over again. That is the reason that the band Northern Lite was thrilled so much by his song "Girl With A Gun", that they covered it and put it on their current album "Super Black" and lifted the song as the first radio single. EvilMrSod's own acoustic-punk-version of "Girl With A Gun" is now the opener on his second album "Devil's Right Hand" and provides a journey through his musical mind with 16 diverse and original tracks – "Devil's Right Hand" is available in stores on 17th October, 2008.

If one had to highlight some songs it would be the Glam-Folk-Title "The Backstage Queen", a fresh bold ironic "Pop Song #11 & 34", as well as the rocking "Death Ride" which is the first single lift off the album. The darker side of EvilMrSod is recovered in "Jesus Left Me Alone" and "Last Day On Earth". The tunes and the text-mix show EvilMrSod different emotions: joy, affliction, hope or even sarcasm. His own individual contemplative mixture.
