EvilMrSod & Keiko
"Weekend"

In 2008, EvilMrSod and Keiko joined forces to record an album. They did it in one day. January 13th 2008. A Sunday. "Sunday" contained 8 tracks, written by EvilMrSod, arranged and performed by EvilMrSod and Keiko.

Four years after "Sunday", EvilMrSod & Keiko are back with "Weekend". If "Sunday" was recorded on a single day, this "Weekend" (continuing the tradition) was completed in a weekend. Ten tracks recorded at Liquen Audio in La Esperanza (Tenerife), showing this time the less traditional and more contemporary side of the group. Less country and less blues, but more rock'n'roll.

This time not all songs are written by EvilMrSod. Three of the tracks are written by Diego Hdez., Román Brito and Luis Suárez, which has given an even greater variety to the already wide palette they showed in "Sunday".

"Baby, Death Is Coming" has been chosen as first single and videoclip.
